No. 1 is said to be M. Lunacharsky, Minister of Education; No. 2 is Leon Trotsky, Foreign Minister, and No. 3 is M. Nogin, Minister of Commerce. The woman in the picture is said to be Mile Colontal. No authentic identifications were given for the other persons shown.

Notwithstanding the Violent Pronouncement of German Premier, in Address to Reichstag, a Distinct Desire for Peace is Clearly Evident. Austrian Foreign Minister Considers Interests of Two Nations Less Incompatible Than They Seem.

Question As To Northern France Occupancy Must be Left to France and Germany Poland a Question for Germany and Austria

Terms Outlined by President Wilson and Lloyd George Contain Certain Principles Which Could be Accepted by Germany, But in the Concrete Proposals are Unsatisfactory. Can be no Talk of Cession of Alsace.

LONDON, JANUARY 25.—(Associated Press Cable)—Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, has declared that an exchange of views between America and Austria-Hungary might form the starting point for a conciliatory discussion among all states which have not yet entered peace negotiations. The interest of the two countries, he said, were less incompatible than they seemed.

On the question of a general peace Count Czernin is quoted as having said he considered President Wilson's latest peace proposition as an approach to the Austro-Hungarian viewpoint. While there were several points in common, he said, there remained the fact that Austria-Hungary, as an ally of Germany, would fight to the bitter end in defense of her alliance.

VON HERTLING'S ADDRESS

BERLIN, JANUARY 25.—(Associated Press Cable)—Commenting on the world peace program set forth by President Wilson, Chancellor Von Hertling, addressing the Reichstag main committee, said an agreement could be reached on the first four points of the President's address. Regarding the fifth point he said there would be some difficulty. He said evacuation of Russian territory was a question concerning only Russia and the Central Powers.

Germany never demanded the incorporation of Belgian territory by violence, he asserted. He said the state of Poland would be decided by Germany and Austria. When all other questions had been settled, he added, Germany would be ready to discuss the question of a league of peace.

The Chancellor declared the question of northern France could be discussed only by France and Germany and asserted there could be no talk of the cession of Alsace-Lorraine. The Chancellor demanded that the leaders of the nations at war with Germany set forth new proposals.

The terms outlined by President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George contain certain principles which could be accepted by Germany, he said, but the concrete proposals were unsatisfactory.

Under no circumstances could Germany give up Alsace-Lorraine, the German Chancellor said in answering the addresses of President Wilson and Lloyd George.

He declared that Germany did not want annexations of occupied French territory by violence.

In his reply the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister voiced before the Reichstag a desire to continue the exchange of peace views with the allies.

The first four points of the President's program referred to cover the abolition of secret diplomacy, freedom of the seas, equality on trade and reduction of national armament. The fifth point mentioned treated with colonial adjustments.

Austria was primarily concerned with points nine, ten and eleven of the President's speech, Chancellor Hertling said, but Germany's interest would be defended wherever they are involved. These points touch upon the readjustment of the Italian lines along clearly recognizable nationality, free opportunity for the development of the people of Austria-Hungary and with the Balkan question, including demands for evacuation of Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro, with free access to the seas for Serbia.

MIXED DRINKS AND MIXED DRINKERS

WOMEN'S BAR IN NEW YORK

The fair sex is gradually breaking into many of man's exclusive forms of amusement. The Hotel Majestic of New York, is one of the first that has thrown aside conventions and opened its bar to women. They may now enjoy the privilege of placing one foot on the rail and shouting "One up!" These women too the scratch in manly fashion while the bartender nonchalantly goes through all the movements of mixing the brew.

WASHINGTON FAILS TO SEE ANY PROGRESS

Announcements Still Lack the Ring of Sincerity.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 25.—Based on short cabled reports of the speeches of the German and Austrian premiers, opinion is expressed by officials here that no substantial advance toward peace has resulted from these declarations. There is no suggestion of a surrender of any of the extreme contentions of the military element of the Central Powers.

Renunciation of the Austrian Premier of any claims against Russia for indemnity or annexation does not extend to other nations.

As for Poland a declaration that the population would decide its own fate is read here in the light of the action taken by the Central Powers to set up a sham kingdom of Poland which in reality is nothing more than a dependency of Austria and Germany.

The German Premier's statement that the question of Russian evacuation concerns only Germany and Russia is in direct conflict with President Wilson's expressions on Russia as well as his demands that the people of occupied territory may arrange their own future.

JAPAN PLEASSED

(Associated Press Cable) Tokyo, Japan, January 25.—The Japanese foreign minister in his speech on January 22, to both Houses of parliament, announced that members of the Japanese mission recently sent to America had established mutual accord between Japan and the United States in military co-operation in the war.

DESERTS FROM GERMAN NAVY

Teuton Engineer at Kiel Leaves During Revolt.

(Associated Press Cable.) London, January 25.—A German naval engineer, who has deserted from Kiel, according to an Amsterdam dispatch, asserts there have been important revolts among the crews of German mine sweepers.

TO RECRUIT FARMER BOYS FOR TRACTOR INSTRUCTIONS

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., January 25.—Plans for the recruiting of farmers and farm boys to take free course of training in the operation of farm tractors have been made as another step in a campaign to add 1500 farm tractors to the tractor supply, Governor Cox announced today. He issued a call for men who want to take advantage of the course.

BAKER ASKS CHAMBERLAIN TO ARRANGE AN AUDIENCE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 25.—Secretary Baker today asked Senator Chamberlain to arrange an occasion at which members of Congress disposed to attend may do so and hear a statement in reply to the Senator's charges of inefficiency in the army. "If this request can be complied with I shall be happy to be advised at your earliest convenience of time and place," he said in a letter to the Senator. In his letter, Secretary Baker said: "The questions which have arisen with regard to the conduct of the war require an explicit statement from me for the information of your committee and generally for the information of Congress and the country. The people of the country are entitled to have at large a summary of what has been done by America in the war." Chairman Chamberlain submitted the request to the committee which considered it later today.

U. S. PRIVATE IS SACRIFICED

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 25.—General Pershing today reported another American soldier killed in action on January 22, but no details. The man killed was Private Fred Thompson, whose brother lives at Georgetown, Ill. He reported the death also of Floyd Bolan, of Athens, Ohio, of pneumonia.

WILL SUPERVISE ARMY PURCHASES

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 25.—Edward R. Stettinius of New York, was today appointed surveyor general for all army purchases. He will be in charge of the procurement and production of all supplies by the five army bureaus.

VIEWED AS ANSWER
The appointment of Mr. Stettinius, which is in effect that of a munitions supervisor and director for all war department purchases, was viewed as the answer of the administration to the munitions bill pending in the Senate.

CLOSE SALOONS
By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., January 25.—The Federal Fuel Administration today sustained the State Fuel Administration in its order for closing saloons on fuelless Mondays.

WILL REMOVE THE EMBARGO IN SHORT TIME

Monday or Tuesday May See the End of Ban on Freight. Rerouting Brings Answer.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, January 25.—Successful rerouting of much western freight over southern lines and better weather today over most of the East prompted railroad officials to declare the general freight embargo would be removed by Monday or Tuesday.

Coal movements were reported greater today than at any time in the past ten days. Specific orders went out today from Director General McAdoo to western railroads and shippers for the transmission of live stock, grain and other commodities destined for New York through Memphis and other southern roads.

OFFICIALS SEE TROUBLE NEAR

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., January 25.—Complaint is made to state officials that embargoes on feed shipments east may contribute to a corn shortage and particularly a feed shortage in Ohio.

RUSSIANS WILL TRY ONCE MORE TO AGREE

Peace Negotiations Between Austria and Germany will be Resumed on the Basis of No Annexations and No Indemnities.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Peace negotiations between Austria and Russia on the basis of no annexations and no indemnities will be continued and in the opinion of the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, peace between the two countries can be assured if Russia maintains the same attitude.

In view of the German demand that Russia give up Courland and the Baltic provinces, and the Austrian foreign minister's statement, further negotiations with the Russians are enshrouded in doubt.

In his Reichstag address Chancellor Von Hertling in referring to President Wilson's speech, said there was no difference between the United States and Germany regarding freedom of the seas.

Abandonment of the plan by the Austro-Germans to overrun the Venetian plain seems to be indicated in their retirement westward from the Piave river.

THE REASON
In a statement at the peace conference the Russian foreign minister declared that the Austro-German position had made it clear that Austria and Germany were giving the doctrine of self-determination an illusory character by their refusal to evacuate occupied territory.

AMONG WOMEN WAR WORKERS

RED CROSS TAKES UP BELGIAN RELIEF WORK

The local chapter of the American Red Cross is now taking up some greatly needed Belgian Refugee work and will assist in the making of infant's layettes for French or Belgian mothers.

Mrs. Eva J. Penn will be in charge and any who are willing to help in this work are asked to call her. The articles will be cut and assembled at the Red Cross room, but the articles must be made at home.

The Mothers' Club has signified its intention to take up this branch of relief work.

The following article from the Lake Division News gives insight into the nature of this work.

"Women workers in Red Cross chapters in Lake Division have had their attention called to the fact that the American Red Cross is planning to provide every French or Belgian mother who may need it with an infant's layette. The women's bureau has available a leaflet describing a simple outfit of warm baby clothes.

"The articles and garments in the layette have been chosen on the advice of representatives of the woman's bureau who have just returned from France. The Red Cross is anxious that these baby clothes be made by women working at home instead of at the chapter workrooms.

"The garments are very simple. Great emphasis is laid on the purchase of extremely durable materials, since, owing to the coal shortage in France, hot water is available in most villages only twice a week, and a greater part of the laundry work is done in icy streams. The method of cleansing is by pounding with stones. Warm baby clothes will save many a child who otherwise might perish.

"The layette will, if necessary, serve also for civilian relief here in America. Patterns described in the leaflet can be obtained at Red Cross chapters and at practically every retail dry goods store with a pattern counter.

"Wherever possible, the Red Cross urges that the layette be completed before it is turned over to chapters for shipping. Where this is not possible, single articles will be acceptable at chapter rooms."

RED CROSS SHIPS MORE BOXES

The Red Cross shipped two more boxes of knitted garments this week. One contained 75 sweaters, the other 80 pairs of socks. Another box will be sent in a few days.

HIGH PRAISE PASSED

ON RED CROSS GARMENTS

The local Red Cross workers and particularly the management of the Red Cross work shop, Miss Marie Lanum, chairman, are much gratified over the report of "perfect" which has been passed on each of the recent boxes shipped to headquarters. The itemized list of garments which must accompany each shipment is always returned and graded "perfect," "excellent" or "passable." The fact that these lists have been returned with the grade of "perfect" speaks eloquently of the high quality of the knitted work which is being done by Fayette county women.

FIELD SUPERVISION

EXPECTED HERE

The local Red Cross chapter is expected a visit from Mrs. Martin, one of the Field Supervisors of the Lake Division early in February. Mrs. Martin, who has never been here is pronounced a charming woman who lends inspiration to the work. She will inspect and pass upon the bed shirts, being made by the Red Cross to be sent to France, and will probably start a surgical dressing's class.

THREE CARS OFF WRECKER CALLED

Three cars of a B. & O. freight left the rails two miles east of this city on the Weston division of the road, Thursday, causing a general tie-up of traffic for many hours.

It was necessary to call the wrecker from Dayton and it was some five hours before it reached the scene.

The wreck was the first on the B. & O. in this county for sometime.

THIRTY-THIRD SNOW NOW ON GROUND

What is declared by a local citizen to be the thirty-third snow of the season fell during the night, adding an additional inch or two to the heavy covering of snow that has been upon the ground for two weeks.

The number of days when the mercury touched zero has made a new low-temperature record.

LITTLE CHANGE IN THE COAL SUPPLY

There is little change in the coal situation in this city, but the indications are that the warmer weather and a supply somewhat above the recent average has caused a lessening in the demand.

Dealers were expecting several cars today and Saturday and see no immediate cause for alarm at the present time.

WORKING ON PLANS OF ANNUAL BANQUET

The banquet committee of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association is working on plans for the big event, which is scheduled for Friday night of next week, February 1st, and arrangements are being made to feed an exceptionally large number of the membership. Several hundred plates will be provided, and invitations are now going out with return cards attached so that the secretary will be notified by each member who expects to attend, and arrangements made in accordance with the number of notices returned.

While the name of the speaker has not been announced, the man will be one of note and whom all will be interested in hearing.

Music will be provided throughout the evening, and the banquet is to be held in the K. of P. dining hall—the largest in the city.

CANTON IN LINE

E. Double of the Chamber of Commerce.

TALKS OF ESCAPE FROM GERMANY

LIEUT. PATRICK O'BRIEN.

Lieutenant Patrick O'Brien, of the Royal Canadian Flying Corps, who hails from Momense Ill., has arrived in America after a remarkable escape from Germany. Lieutenant O'Brien was shot down in a battle with German fliers behind the Teuton lines, near Ypres, last August. He woke up in a German hospital, and after being treated there was placed aboard a train for transportation to a German prison camp. When the train was nearing its destination (Strassburg) O'Brien dived through the window of the fast-moving train. For eighty-three days O'Brien trudged through the mud of Luxemburg and Belgium, finally reaching the Dutch frontier. There he tunneled beneath electrically charged wire fences to freedom.

PRUSSIAN STRIKES CITY AND SPEEDILY LANDS IN THE JAIL

The first Prussian to fall into the hands of the local authorities is in the county jail awaiting action of the Federal authorities.

He gives the name of Joseph Haller and is about 55 years of age, apparently of little education, and was first noticed in this city in the vicinity of the Washington Milling Company's plant, the destruction of which was attempted some time ago, apparently by alien enemies.

The man speaks English very brokenly, and is apparently familiar with many of the big cities of the East. He claims that he has been unable to obtain work at a living wage, and was out on the lookout for work that would pay him well.

The fellow was picked up by the police Thursday evening, and although he evaded all direct questions and nothing of consequence could be gleaned from the exhaustive questioning.

The man does not deny that he is a Prussian, and because he can give no logical explanation of his presence here, it has been decided by the police that he will be placed in the hands of the Federal authorities.

Haller declares that he is a naturalized citizen but lost his papers five years ago. His knowledge of where he obtained the papers is vague, and so far he has not convinced the police that he is entitled to the freedom of the country.

SAD CIRCUMSTANCES ATTEND BABY'S BURIAL

Sadness beyond words to express enveloped the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Icenhower, Thursday, when their baby daughter, Mildred Louise, was carried to the Washington cemetery to rest in the vault until better weather conditions permit burial in the cemetery at New Burlington.

The attendant circumstances added to the sorrow, being quarantined since diphtheria had stricken the little girl and compelled to remain shut in for some time yet. While no friends could alleviate their pain by coming to them, yet a number gathered outside of the home, expressing as best they could their overflowing sympathy.

The beautiful baby girl of twenty-seven months, in her little white casket, was placed amid a bank of flowers in the large front window, so that those who wished might see her once more.

She was an unusually lovable child, unselfish in disposition and winning friends by her sweet little ways no less than by her beauty. Many in the neighborhood share the loss of the parents, sister and two brothers, and followed in their thoughts the trip from which they were barred, to the Washington cemetery.

Columbus, Jan. 25.—Retail food stores and hotels open as restaurants must not operate cigar and confectionery counters hereafter on public holidays. This order was sent by State Food Administrator Croxton. In addition, it was stated at the food administration office that "any place open under the guise of a restaurant, selling liquor, is violating the spirit of the Garfield order."

ANNUAL INSTITUTE UP TO STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE

Good Hope Farmers' Institute
Successful in Every Detail Regardless of Blocked Roads—
Officers Chosen—Wayne Hall
Is Packed for Final Session.

Withal the reverses caused by blockades of snow and delayed trains which occasioned sudden changes in the program, the Good Hope Institute held in Wayne Hall, Wednesday and Thursday, was a great success and drew an attendance remarkable under the difficult conditions.

The way in which President C. R. Lyle and the management rose to the difficulties in changing and adjusting programs was the subject of much favorable comment. Everybody enjoyed the institute and the visiting between sessions, together with the excellent dinners served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church, provided desired social interludes.

The officers in charge of the institute were President C. R. Lyle, who has filled the office with marked efficiency for the past two years; Vice President, Louis Parrott; Secretary, Robert N. Free; Treasurer, Hugh Rodgers; Executive Committee, Mrs. Tasso Post, Mrs. Willis Boyer, Mrs. Wash Lough; Corn Committee, Oris Hegler, Ralph Braden, Oliver Woods.

The officers elected Thursday afternoon for the coming year are: President, Mr. Oris Hegler; Vice-President, R. B. McCoy; Secretary, James King; Treasurer, Hugh Rodgers; Executive Committee, Bruce King, Wm. T. Steers, Ralph Braden, Mrs. Wash Lough, Mrs. Willis Boyer, Mrs. Earl Johnson.

Wednesday's Sessions.
The opening session of Wednesday morning opened with the singing of "Star Spangled Banner," led by Mrs. John York, and invocation by Rev. Pfaltzgraf.

President, C. R. Lyle made a splendid address of welcome, presenting the importance of the institute, its purposes and accomplishments.

There were two state speakers in attendance, but their late arrival owing to delayed trains, presented time for the addresses assigned. Mr. C. K. Wagner, being a one day man, Mr. C. P. Funk generously made way for him. Mr. Wagner spoke on "A Study in Live Stock Production," the discussion following led by Mr. Oris Hegler.

Miss Mary Arnold played a very pretty piano solo and responded to the request of the management to open the afternoon's session with a piano number.

Mr. Wagner's address on "Selection a Means of Improvement or Retrogression," aroused much enthusiasm and Dr. Neil B. Jones led the discussion.

Miss Juanita Haines gave two charming readings, and Mrs. H. C. King, who possesses a lovely voice gave much pleasure in her solos.

Mr. Funk made an excellent address on "Line and Clover."

There were 240 present. In the evening the hall was filled. Miss Lorie King and Mrs. Bruce King introduced the program with a brilliant piano duet.

A pretty children's exercise was well done under the training of Mrs. Fountain.

Miss Mary Holdren, a talented young reader, entertained the audience and responded to an encore.

Mr. Funk gave a "Message From a Hayseed" that drew long applause.

The program was closed with a patriotic vocal solo by Miss Mary Pfaltzgraf that so pleased the audience that by special urging the young girl sang it again on Thursday.

Thursday's Sessions.

The D. T. & I train played havoc with Thursday's sessions. Mrs. Frank E. Haines, Supt. of the Fayette county Boys' and Girls' Club, had personally secured State Supt. Palmer, of the Boys' and Girls' Club work to talk on this movement, and he, with the other state speakers, Mrs. Luella B. McKee, of Bellfontaine, were stranded in Washington. At eleven o'clock a sled was secured at Good Hope and although the driver made good time, it was two o'clock before the speakers, together with Mrs. Willis Boyer, President of the Woman's Department arrived.

Miss Jeanette Walker opened the morning session with a beautiful piano solo and Rev. Wilkins pronounced the invocation. Mr. Funk addressed the institute and Miss Grace Lyle gave a pleasing piano solo and encore.

Mrs. Willis Boyer presided over the afternoon session after she arrived with the speaker, but the preceding hour necessitated changes.

While waiting for Mr. Palmer Mrs. F. E. Haines made an impromptu talk upon the work and benefits of the Boys' and Girls' Club that was one of the best talks of the institute. She impressed the practical good this systematic club work was doing in teaching the girls and boys to keep accurate records and acquire business habits.

President Lyle, a natural orator, gave a reading with the moral that the boy who won out stayed on the farm, that received generous applause.

Mrs. H. D. Rodgers, a brilliant pianist played an opening number that drew a storm of applause and persistent recalls. The audience refused to be satisfied until after her third artistically rendered number.

Miss Grace Lyle delighted the gathering of between 250 and 300, with two readings.

Both state speakers were so fine that it was much regretted that the returning D. T. & I. train gave them but twenty minutes for their most interesting subjects.

Mrs. McKee spoke on "Woman's Way and Part to Play," and Mr. Palmer gave as much information as possible in the few minutes left to him.

There was no time for discussion. Miss Bernice Boggs added to the program a very beautiful piano solo.

The Ohio Quartet, which gave the entire evening program very acceptably, gave two closing numbers.

The biggest house ever filling the hall during the institute was drawn Thursday night.

The institute voted to hold the Annual Farmers' Picnic this summer and an institute next year.

The art exhibit and domestic science department made splendid showing.

EAT MORE FISH ON MEATLESS DAYS

The Ohio War Board Says Today: Found for pound there is nearly as much protein in fish meat as in beef steak.

Fish furnishes a splendid substitute for meat on meatless days.

Oily fish, like shad, herring and eels are especially nutritious, furnishing fat as well as protein.

From the bottom of the ocean comes a new food fish, available in Ohio markets. It's the tile fish. Try it out on the next meatless day.

Take a piece of tilefish weighing about 3 pounds, cut it in five pieces, place in a kettle with an onion and a carrot, both sliced, one-fourth glass of vinegar, one tablespoon of salt, a few grains of pepper, one clove; cover with water, bring to a boil, and keep boiling slowly for 20 minutes. Drain and place on platter. Serve with cream sauce.

INFORMATION BUREAU HAS "NUMBER" OF EACH MAN IN CAMP

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., January 24.—There is a department here in Camp Sherman, the Ohio and west Pennsylvania selective service training post, one of the numerous "side issue" departments of which the civilian hears little, to which one can go and obtain information of almost any sort concerning any man in camp, how old he is, where he came from, what he worked at in civil life, his nationality, etc.; the condition of his physical being, whether he ever had been injured or wounded; where he can be found in the cantonment, should a visitor call to see him and where information about his home draft board can be had.

This department is the Personnel Office. It has officers assigned to it just as has a company of infantry and they do nothing else but watch the records.

Captain W. C. Lawrence, whose title is division personnel officer, is in command. His department is divided into four branches, the employment office, the bureau of vital statistics, the information bureau and the draft board office.

The employment office examines all men coming in camp and grades them according to education, previous occupation, business or athletic ability and places them upon request to the different branches of military service to which they are best suited.

There were 41,536 men, took the vocational examination through the office. Out of 18,886 men who were suggested by the office for transfer to the different working departments of the camp, 12,164 proved themselves of value to these different departments. They "made good."

The bureau of vital statistics maintains a card index system, covering the physical condition of every man in the cantonment. Reports are sent to Washington to the war department at different periods notifying that department of all deaths, all cases of men being hurt or wounded and also a complete list as to the number of men in hospitals and the disease of each man.

The information bureau also has a card index system, three cards for each man in camp. In case a stranger or relative of one of the men reach camp and do not know where the one they seek is to be found, the bureau can locate him in a few seconds.

An average of 300 calls daily are answered in this office alone.

The duties of the draft board are to keep a record of the men coming into camp, to give the local draft boards credit for men accepted and to charge them up for men rejected.

It also checks up each draft board to see that it furnishes it's proper number of selectives.

Aside from these four branches an educational bureau is handled through the department. With co-operation of the Y. M. C. A., classes in English have been organized to which 1675 foreigners go regularly. They are located largely through the personnel office and their need of instruction learned by it.

The department has been found of vast importance and help to both the military authorities and to the public for it's records have been so simply arranged that all sorts of information are available and at the finger's tip on a moments notice.

TURKEY WILL BE ALLOWED TO ACT ALONE

(Associated Press Cable)

Berlin, January 25.—Count Von Hertling said that he would not forestall Turkey's attitude toward point 12 in Mr. Wilson's address. Point 12 declares that the Turkish portions of the present Ottoman Empire should be assured a secure sovereignty, but the other nationalities which are under Turkish rule should be assured security of life and absolutely unimpaired opportunity of autonomous development.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, January 25.—President Wilson cancelled all his engagements this afternoon, including the cabinet meeting, and remained in the White House study at work. There were no outward indications whether the international situation or the attack on the War Department were engaging the President's attention.

It was said at the White House that the President had a slight cold.

MINERS ARE URGED TO ASK CONGRESS

Indianapolis, Jan. 25.—Indications are that the United Mine Workers will drop from its rolls all members. If there are any, who insist upon holding membership in the Industrial Workers of the World, the working class union recently created in Oklahoma, or any dual organization not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

By a vote of 882 to 263 the convention ratified the action of the international board in increasing the salaries of the international officers 25 per cent. This is in keeping with the 25 per cent advance received by the miners. Much disorder prevailed during the discussion of the salary question.

Harold Houston of West Virginia, one of the union's lawyers, addressed the convention on legal cases in his state. He referred to the Hitchman case in the supreme court of the United States, in which that tribunal sustained the lower court, which had enjoined the union from soliciting among the company's men to join the organization. He added: "You must either meekly submit to that decision or you must serve notice on congress that unless within a given time some action is taken to nullify that infamous decision the miners of the United States will lay down their picks."

TO SAFEGUARD THE AGRICULTURAL FORCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., January 25.—Several days ago when Governor Cox asked local and district draft boards to give very close attention to the matter of considering questionnaires returned by young men engaged in any way in agricultural pursuits, he called attention to some of the cases that have been brought to his attention, indicating that it will require conscientious efforts on the part of the boards to be certain that the state's agricultural forces are not depleted.

"One registrant was born and reared on a farm," said the governor. "He spent three terms in school studying to prepare himself for management and operation of a farm, working only during the summer months at his following. The questionnaire showed that he had spent the larger part of the last three years as a student, so the local board recommended that he be put in Division A, thereby making him subject to early draft, whereas he should have been treated as a skilled farmer or skilled farm manager."

"France and England made the mistake of not properly protecting their agricultural interests and are now compelled to look to us for necessary food products. Therefore, it is absolutely necessary that we protect our agricultural interests and not make the same mistakes that our Allies made."

RUNS FILIBUSTER

Meyer London

Meyer London, Representative from New York City, is conducting a one-man filibuster in the House of Representatives which is causing much embarrassment to some of the members. Mr. London is indignant at the refusal of the House to take up for consideration his Old Age Insurance and Pension bill. So every morning, just after the House meets, he rises and makes the point of order that there is not a quorum present. There is seldom ever an actual quorum in the House Chamber, except when members know there is going to be a record vote; so this always forces a roll call, with the result that every day the absence from the official duties of certain members of the House is revealed.

200 FAYETTE MEN CALLED FOR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

First 100 to Report Wednesday of Next Week, and the Second 100 on Thursday.

Men Are in Class One and Will Not be Sent to Camp for Sometime to Come.

Examinations Will be Held at Memorial Hall and Every Man Called Must Report.

The Local Board, in compliance with the new law regulating the examination of all drafted men placed in Class One under the questionnaire plan, has called the first 200 men of Class One for physical examination on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. An additional list will be called for examination on Friday, February 1st, it is announced.

The examination of the men in Class One does not mean that they are to be sent to camp at once, or even within a few months, but means that the physically fit of the class will be ascertained so that they can be sent to camp for military training as the demand for more men comes. The manner in which they were drawn will be used in determining the first to be sent. There will be 400 to 500 men in Class One.

All men called must report at the date and hour designated, at Memorial Hall, where Dr. D. H. Rowe and a large number of assistants will make the examinations.

The notices sent to the men reads: "You are hereby directed to appear before this Local Board for physical examination at.....m, on(date).... Failure to do so is a misdemeanor, punishable by not to exceed one year's imprisonment, and may also result in your losing valuable rights and your immediate induction into military service."

HUMANE SOCIETY TO VISIT FARMER NEGLECTING STOCK

Complaints of a farmer residing in the northern part of the county who is alleged to have been guilty of leaving his live stock out in the recent severe weather without attempting to afford them anything like adequate protection, have been made to the Fayette County Humane Society, and Humane Officer G. C. Gooderl will make a thorough investigation of the complaints.

It is claimed that the farmer allowed calves and other live stock to remain in a stockfield where there was little or no protection from the blizzards and abnormal temperature.

If the investigation discloses that the rumors are correct, proper action will be taken to insure no repetition of the offense, it is understood.

Persons who learn of such cruelty to animals should report the violation immediately to the Humane Society, calling for the Humane Officer at either the Y. M. C. A., or Probate Judge's office, so that prompt action may be taken.

ROADS ARE BLOCKED FOR JUST TWO WEEKS CARRIERS HAMPERED

Some of the roads of the county have been blocked for two solid weeks, or since the memorable blizzard of two weeks ago tonight, and rural mail carriers have been unable to cover all of their routes since that time. However, by leaving mail at the homes of neighbors some of the carriers have succeeded in making all deliveries.

Most of the carriers report that no organized attempt has been made along part of their routes to clear the roadways, and as a result they have been forced to turn back at many points, or else drive through snow so deep that their horses flounder about and their vehicles drag through the drifts. In some instances they have been compelled to get out in the drifts and shovel their way out.

The law provides that rural mail carriers need not attempt deliveries of mail unless the roads are properly opened, and the ten carriers out of this city, as well as the carriers in other parts of the county, have been suffering all kinds of hardships and inconveniences in order to furnish their patrons with mail, regardless of choked roads and inattention on the part of the authorities to open the roads.

All patrons of the rural mail service are required by law to keep an unobstructed passageway to and from their mail boxes so that the carriers may reach the box without difficulty. If this is not done, the carrier is under no obligation whatever to leave or take up mail in such boxes.

AMERICAN FORCES SIX TIMES LARGER

There were 1,428,650 enlisted men and 119,865 officers in the United States Army at the opening of 1918, more than one and one half times as large as any force ever before mobilized by this nation, according to a statement by Secretary of War Baker.

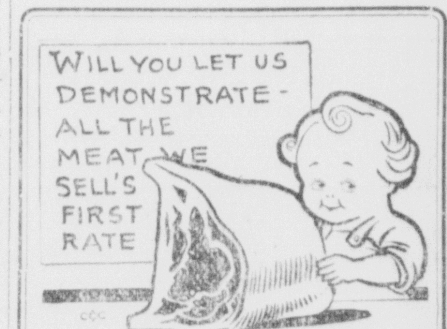

During the war with Spain the army of the United States at its maximum strength aggregated 272,000 men and officers. The army in the field and in training now is practically six times as great as the maximum number under arms in the Spanish-American war.

About 45,000 officers were commissioned from civil life in the two series of training camps, nearly eight times as many as the number of officers in the Regular Army April 1, 1917.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Harry Jones, of College Corners, Ohio, friend of the F. M. Rothrock family of this city, recently wrote back from France and the letter, which is splendidly descriptive of rural France, follows:

Dear Folks:—

My journey from where I last wrote was not so long as I anticipated, tho it took us some time to negotiate the distance—traveling as we were in third class trains. We were switched back and forth, stopped and started, and were suddenly told to untangle ourselves and our chattels.

We were packed eight in a compartment and if you can add to that mess of trunks, bags, mess kits, and various other articles of impediment, you can picture our condition.

During the course of our journey we came very near Paris—at Versailles where we were given hot cafe' by the dames of the French Red Cross.

At every station or "gale" one finds these women with their pitchers of coffee while a thousand poilus and Sammies lean as far out the windows as possible intending their cups for their portion—and the shrill little whistle always blows or the coffee runs out before they get to you. And by the way, I haven't heard the name "Sammy" since I landed in Europe.

Our desire to see the country and peep into the quaint places which are so numerous around here quite exceeds our opportunity. We have regular duties though not very hard keeping us in camp—but I took a most interesting exploring trip yesterday to a near village which seems quite unaware of the fact that it contains a "dungeon" part of a castle built in 1008. It is a masterpiece of old masonry—the circular staircase to the "klop" being of solid stone and as good as before the Norman conquest. The rafters are all wooden pegged, the most still partly filled with water, the coat of arms over the door beaten smooth with rain, but the front gate doors are still intact. Above the gate are niches and holes through which an unwelcome visitor could be greeted by a fair sized boilder. The old underground storeroom now is filled with the "bin rouge" of the village, which the master or guard said it was "inter dit" or forbidden to enter.

Until I met the French people I never knew what France really meant—they are more like Americans than the English—much more so and their welcome is genuine. All I have seen so far in their stations, railroads, their "poilus" with their blue uniforms and long bayonets and the quaint villages and country people near the camp.

They thought that France was merely an alluvial deposit on our sphere—it is a good thing that the human being is insoluble. Today our bunch was detailed to "fatigue" duty and we slipped and slid over several acres of our camp. "Fatigue" duty refers to any thing from "K P" (kitchen police) to digging ditches, but spent most of the time chatting with the French carpenters. It is no trouble at all to get lots of practice in conversation, a simple "comment ca va" to anyone will be rewarded by a perfect torrent of gallic nasal and gestures. Can you imagine a band of carpenters wearing a long baggy velvet jeans stuffed in their shoes? I suppose you have imagined me in all sorts of dangers here. The only dangers are that someone will let a hammer fall on my head or

I may fall in one of the ditches I have dug.

My services as interpreter being much in demand as there are only a couple in our outfit who can only make a blunt stab at French. I was surprised myself with the ease with which I can chat with them. The farm buildings are stone or cement arranged in a sort of polygon shape around a center court in which the children, sheep and chickens play together. The steep tile roofed grey weathered building with the neatly stacked barley piles make a quaint picture.

The villages remind me of pictures we see painted on theatre curtains. Narrow crooked streets which run every which way. I have visited about every "cafe" and "bontique" etc., in the vicinity. The real cheese is found only in France. You can buy a whole comembert for 1 franc, 20c. The barley bread is quite palatable, looks like devil cake!! In the typical country inn you go in and set down with the family around the open fire where all the cooking is done—however the more pretentious ones have English ranges. I haven't seen any city life yet. The French boys wear black dresslike aprons to school and from the cradle it seems that the cigarette is a necessity. Everybody wears wooden shoes or sabots, some of them with leather tops.

HARRY JONES.

Mr. James Miller of this city is in receipt of the following letter from Frank Rowan, who enlisted and was in France three weeks later, with his brother, Major Jos. E. Rowan, of the New York Medical Corps:

Somewhere in France, January 2, 1918.

Dear Jimmie:

I suppose you got my letter of about October 10th, anyway, before we left the States. I haven't heard from you and didn't know how you got my address unless you asked my sisters.

I have a man in my ward who was an ambulance driver with the French army at the front and he tells us some good stories. They sound good to a person who is hardened. I have seen some X-ray pictures of shrapnel wounds and gangrene that would make you want to be at home. But we are across the ocean and won't go back until it's over.

I believe it will be over this time next year. Let's hope so anyway.

I received your package this morning and was mighty glad to get it. I have only gotten one package from home. Everything in the box I was glad to get and the Herald brought back happy thoughts of home. I haven't seen a U. S. up to date paper except the war papers printed in Paris. They are the New York Herald and Chicago Tribune; they are so small and say so little. I want to see some Ohio papers. I have seen the New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Indiana papers, but they are not from home. We lost the "dough boys" when we left Garden City or Camp Mills, but will see them when we go into action and our division comes together. I could fill a couple more sheets but haven't anything different to say.

I remain,

H. F. ROWAN,

HAD THE GRIP THREE WEEKS.

With January comes lagrippe. Lingering colds seem to settle in the system, causing one to ache all over, feel feverish and chilly, tired, heavy and drooping. Mrs. Lizzie Tyles, Henderson, Ky., writes: "My daughter had lagrippe for three weeks. I gave her Foley's Honey and Tar and now she is all right." Blackmer & Tanquary.

ROOSEVELT ASSERTS RIGHT TO CRITICIZE ADMINISTRATION ACTS

Washington, Jan. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, in a speech before the National Press club, asserted his right to criticize the conduct of the war and declared it to be every man's duty to oppose inefficiency if it retards the work of the war-making machinery.

In answer to an attack made on him recently in the senate by Senator Stone, he said the speech was an insidious effort in behalf of Germany and that the Missouri senator, who had done all he could to serve Germany in opposing war legislation, had been the first to inject partisan politics into the war.

Colonel Roosevelt came out in open support of Senator Chamberlain's proposals for a war cabinet and a munitions department.

Declaring the present is no time for politics, Colonel Roosevelt said: "No public servant and no private citizen in his public relation at this time has any business to consider partisan politics in any way." He said he criticized the conduct of the Spanish war and that his action then showed he believed himself to be performing his duty now. It was never more necessary than now, he said, to tell the people the truth.

AMERICAN MADE CHEMICALS USED

Local photographers are using for the first time all American-made chemicals for developing photographs, and are using American-made sensitized paper for the pictures, so that never again will it be necessary to depend upon "made in Germany" materials for photographic work.

At present the chemicals are just a little higher in price than the old, but this condition is expected to change as soon as the industry becomes thoroughly established and the war is over.

Results equal to any that German-made chemicals ever produced, are obtainable.

At the beginning of the war there was a panic among photographers who feared a shortage of German made chemicals would cause a suspension of business among photographers in general.

MANY COMPLYING WITH ORDINANCE

Many persons already have complied with the city ordinance providing for the removal of snow from the sidewalks, but the majority of citizens have not done so.

However, with a still greater melting of the snow it is expected that the ordinance will be more generally observed so that all slush may be removed from the walks.

RED CROSS CARDS SOON TO BE SENT

Announcement is made that the Red Cross membership cards will be sent out for distribution in the near future.

These cards will be distributed by the War Work Council within the next few weeks, and will show that each member has paid the amount of his membership to the Red Cross.

Double the Supply of Poultry and Eggs in the United States and Increase the Amount of Available Food 1,500,000 Tons

One hundred hens and several hundred chickens on the average farm, rightly managed, can get nearly all their living in spring, summer and fall "from the land." In feeding themselves they will utilize nearly all the waste grain, and consume great quantities of weeds, weed seeds and destructive insects.

One hundred hens and a few hundred chicks can turn a lot of farm waste into good food. Incidentally the poultry will leave on the land valuable fertilizer at the rate of two or three tons for every hundred birds.

One hundred hens on every farm, and one hundred eggs from every hen, mean more poultry and eggs for consumption on the farm, more to sell, more to substitute for red meat, and more power to our arms and the allies.
